

Mother Teresa's Wisdoms

People are often unreasonable and self-centered
- forgive them anyway.

If we are kind, people may accuse us of selfish ulterior motives
- be kind anyway.

If we are successful, we may win some unfaithful friends and some genuine enemies
- succeed anyway.

If we are honest and sincere, people may deceive us
- be honest and sincere anyway.

What we spend years creating, others could destroy overnight
- create anyway.

If we find serenity and happiness, some may be jealous
- be happy anyway.

The good we do today may often be forgotten
- do good anyway.

Giving the world the best we have may never be enough
- give the best anyway.

Mother Teresa's Sayings

People who know how to truly love are the happiest people in the world.

To love properly, you must be willing to sacrifice something.

Faith is the biggest gift we can have.

Love and Faith go together.

People today are hungering kindness.

The joining of people together in the name of other's suffering brings joy to all involved.

To live for the Passion of Love is to live for the Passion of Heaven.

To be beautiful is to be constantly in thought of others.

Devotion is a combination of love and respect.

Where there is life – there is loneliness – it cannot be helped.

To learn how to love is to learn how to forgive.

Miracles are birthed through compassion and kindness.

Do not wait for another to be leader – just do it!

We owe those less fortunate as they teach us to love.

True holiness consist in being of service with a smile.

One must empty in order to become full.

Loving one person is as powerful as loving one hundred.

Never be of service to be famous.

Depend solely on divine providence.

To be meek and humble is to be grand and noble.

Do not throw away what others can use.

Money without love and caring is worthless.

Smiling brings beauty and light to the world.

Caring for the unwanted and unloved is the greatest gift we can give to spirit.